

VARIABLE POTION BOTTLES

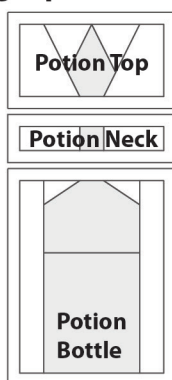

BASICS

- This paper piecing pattern is intended for quilters who understand the basics of paper piecing; instructions for this technique are not included. For a free downloadable paper piecing tutorial, please visit www.flyingparrotquilts.com/tutorials.
- Finished block size is variable depending on your selections, but the finished height will be either 6" or 9", and finished width will be a multiple of 3".
- Seam allowances are $\frac{1}{4}$ " unless otherwise specified.
- Ensure your printer's scaling is set to 100%. Measure the size test boxes on each page to ensure they are the correct size. If they are off, check your printer settings and print again.

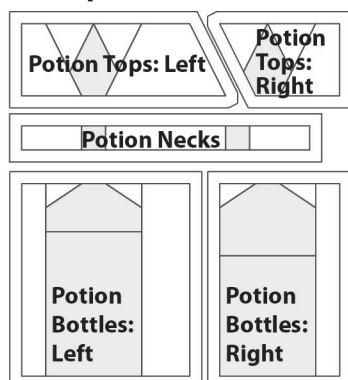

ASSEMBLING THE VARIABLE BOTTLES

- These potion bottle blocks are "variable" because you may select from 6" and 9" inch heights for your finished block, and you may include as many potion bottles in a row as you would like. Each potion bottle is 3" wide. For example, a block with 3 potion bottles will be 9" wide when finished.
- Potion tops and necks are the same for 6" and 9" heights; simply choose the appropriate potion bottle size for the bottom portion of the block.
- For blocks including more than two potion bottles, print additional center bottle sections and insert them between the left and right end bottles. (For example, for three bottles, print one center top and bottle section; for four bottles, print two center top and bottle sections.)
- A three-potion neck section is included; for more than three bottles in a row, insert additional potion neck sections into your paper template.
- The level to which these bottles are filled with potion is just a suggestion! Feel free to move the seam line between piece 1 and 2 in the bottles up or down as desired. Just draw a new line on your paper pattern and sew on that line instead.
